

New Health

by 404 Guild & 404 Guild

[Sample: Katy Perry]I know--[Spoken 1: Eliot]A place to sit downThe world is changingA new hope, a new healthA greater awareness of your surroundingsA greater awareness of the effect of your decisions on othersSleeping better, releasing what's niceRearranging the furniture in your homeMore willing to talk about your problemsBetter at listening to the problems of othersSincerity not ironyLonger, warmer eveningsWatching films that you haven't seen beforeTaking a minute to really be in the momentAnd openness to the idea of a higher powerTrails of light through city streetsTumbling valleys and flowered fieldsAnd cold shorelines and chalked cliffsPast where you used to livePast places where you did the right thing and where you did the wrong thingPlaces of love and sadnessAnd certain fear and ineffable emotionsAnd the sun and moonFor better or worse, it was hell on EarthBut still I share the dangers with you[Spoken 2: Eliot]It was a long time comingAnd our time is upYes, our time is nowThe world's rising up, and we're climbing upThe Earth's burning up, but we're still climbing upAnd I can abide, yes I will abideEcstatic limbo, distance in timeAnd I thank you for your love for me that never endsThank you for the crowded joy that awaits me in your kingdom[Spoken 3: Eliot]Did you find what you were looking for?And was it worth it?Does it even matter?The one who stared into the core of your despairAnd kept on up that cheered faceI felt so proudWe will not cease, after all those too-bright morningsSad meals and shared nightmaresTrain jumps and backtracked maps drawn and notes takenJoy not fearWe will not settle, nor cave inDespite howling winds and a [?]We look onwards to coral lit skies and old apple trees in the late summer duskFor best and the worse, togetherAn endless wave, as the sun and moonThere is a hell on Earth, and I'll always share the dangers with youThere is a hell on Earth, and I'll always share the dangers with youThere is a hell on Earth, and I'll always share the dangers with youThere is a hell on Earth and I'll always share the dangers with youAn endless wave, togetherFor best and for worseThere is a hell on Earth, and I'll always share the dangers with you
